Mardean Badger, Executive Board Member

Ashland

After receiving her MLS in Library Science, Mardean was a school librarian in the Plymouth (NH) schools for 38 years, with responsibility for library instruction, staff supervision, material selection, budget preparation, and curriculum development and integration. During that time, she also participated on high school accreditation teams and was a peer reviewer for federal school library grants. Since her retirement, Mardean has served on various Ashland municipal committees and boards, including the Ashland School Board and the Budget Committee. She currently is a Library Trustee, is the Chair of the Planning Board, and has been the town website manager for several years. Mardean has been an LRPC Commissioner since 2017 and Executive Board member since 2020. In 2019, she received a Community Service Award from the Lakes Region Planning Commission and a Citizen Planner of the Year Award from the NH Planners Association.
